

An American Perforated Coil Label

This item was sent by JOHN MATHEWS from Australia. He spotted it on the Internet. As there is no monetary value mentioned on the label perhaps its purpose was for advertising. It is for FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST, manufactured by Standard Brands Inc, New York. It would appear to have the date '1930' at the bottom. The label is perforated with the letters 'LF' but there is no way of knowing the correct size of the label. It looks as if it was 'blown-up' for the internet. Our American readers may be able to say whether this is a common or unusual collectable.
